

ROARS & WHISPERS

September 12, 2018

Dear Friend,

The Roars and Whispers Literary Magazine offers a unique opportunity for the students of Providence High School to showcase their creative voices within our community. This publication brings talented writers, artists and photographers together for a distinctive purpose – to highlight student excellence in the arts.

Roars and Whispers cannot exist without the support of patrons. Your continued backing allows us to thrive as one of the premier magazines in the country. Roars and Whispers received the Pacemaker Award in 2018 – the oldest and most prestigious award in scholastic journalism. Roars and Whispers was also awarded the Gold Crown from Columbia University in 2018, one of ten magazines recognized at this level. The National Scholastic Press Association inducted Roars and Whispers into the NSPA Hall of Fame six years ago. And, for the fourteenth year in a row, Roars and Whispers received the Tar Heel Award with the highest ranking in North Carolina.

These accolades are made possible by the generous support of our patrons. Roars and Whispers receives no state or local funding. Donations are tax deductible and are applied to the costs of technology, training and printing. Patrons have their names printed in the back of the magazine; parents and community members will recognize the businesses and individuals that support their school. Our patrons receive a complimentary copy of Roars and Whispers giving them the opportunity to view the work of the gifted writers and artists they support.

Roars and Whispers has the capacity to reach a student body of over 2,000, as well as the community at large. Please join us in lending a voice to Providence's artistic community.

Thank you very much for your consideration,

Zoë Kaperonis
Business Editor

Marva Hutchinson
Adviser