

ROARS & WHISPERS

January 13, 2021

Dear Patrons:

The Roars and Whispers Literary Magazine staff would like to personally thank you for supporting us during this difficult time. It hasn't been an easy year. We wondered if we could produce a magazine at all, but we have been working tirelessly to make sure the artistic voice of Providence High School isn't lost. Our staff has persevered through remote learning and will publish a physical magazine again this year!

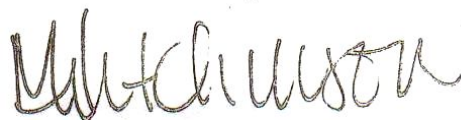

This year has been financially difficult for many, and we completely understand if you aren't able to donate this year. We still wanted to send this message to thank you for your past support and to update you on how our staff has adapted to the changing circumstances. We appreciate your consideration.

The support of our patrons provides staff members access to the high quality software and educational opportunities. These donations also cover critique services from national organizations, providing the professional feedback that helps us grow as a magazine year after year. As a patron, your name will be printed in the back of this year's issue of Roars & Whispers. Additionally, your donations are tax deductible. Once our publication is finalized this spring, you will receive a complimentary copy of the magazine.

This year has been more difficult for our magazine than any other. We are grateful we can continue to provide quality student literature to the people who have supported us for all these years. We hope you'll support us in highlighting Providence's artistic community.

Elizabeth Park
Business Editor

Marva Hutchinson
Adviser

In compliance with Federal Law, NC Public Schools administers all state-operated educational programs, employment activities and admissions without discrimination because of race, religion, national or ethnic origin, color, age, military service, disability, or gender, except where exemption is appropriate and allowed by law.